Languages and Compilers for Parallel Computing Utpal Banerjee, David Gelernter, Alex Nicolau, David A. Padua, 1992

This volume contains the proceedings of the Fourth Workshop on Languages and Compilers for Parallel Computing held in Santa Clara California in August 1991. The purpose of the workshop held every year since 1988 is to bring together the leading researchers on parallel programming language design and compilation techniques for parallel computers. The papers in this book cover several important topics including 1 languages and structures to represent programs internally in the compiler 2 techniques to analyze and manipulate sequential loops in order to generate a parallel version 3 techniques to detect and extract fine grain parallelism 4 scheduling and memory management issues in automatically generated parallel programs 5 parallel programming language designs and 6 compilation of explicitly parallel programs. Together the papers give a good overview of the research projects underway in 1991 in this field. Algebraic and Logic Programming, 1997

Algebraic Methods: Theory, Tools and Applications Martin Wirsing, Jan A. Bergstra, 1989-09-20      Coding Theory and Applications Gérard Cohen, Jacques Wolfmann, 1989-09-20. A rich source of information about human voluntary movement in health and disease can be found in this book. The most esteemed researchers in their respective fields bring you up to date articles. Their collected work combines fundamental research in the life sciences with clinical neuroscience in a unique overview. The interdisciplinary aspects of motor physiology uncover a wealth of information for researchers from neighboring disciplines. For example, oculomotor research, vestibular research, equilibrium, sensory research, and cognition, evolution, synaptic and elementary processes, and the neurological sciences can be discovered. Progress in Distributed

Operating Systems and Distributed Systems Management Wolfgang Schröder-Preikschat, 1990-05-22. The purpose of this workshop was to provide a general forum for distributed systems researchers. Special emphasis was placed on research activities in distributed operating systems and management of distributed systems. This volume includes a selection of the papers presented at the workshop. They focus on the illustration of existing concepts and solutions in distributed systems research and development exemplified by case study analyses of various projects. The annex contains the position papers prepared for the panel discussions at the workshop. Advances in Database Technology - EDBT '90 Francois

Bancilhon, Costantino Thanos, 1990-02-21. Database technology is currently being pushed by the needs of new applications and pulled by the opportunities of novel developments in hardware and systems architecture. The invited paper, two panel sessions, and 27 papers in this volume report on how the technology is currently extending. One broad area covered is extended database semantics including data models and data types, databases and logic, complex objects, and expert system approaches to databases. The other area covered is raw architectures and increased database systems support including novel transaction models, data distribution and replication, database administration, and access efficiency. Design and

Implementation of Symbolic Computation Systems Alfonso Miola,1990-03-26 The growing importance of the systems for symbolic computation has greatly influenced the decision of organizing DISCO 90 which is short for International Symposium on Design and Implementation of Symbolic Computation Systems DISCO 90 focuses mainly on the most innovative methodological and technological aspects of hardware and software system design and implementation for Symbolic and Algebraic Computation Automated Reasoning Software Environments Languages and User Interfaces and Automatic Programming In particular it includes papers on the design and the development of significant running systems The general objective of DISCO 90 is to present an up to date view of the field while encouraging the scientific exchange among academic industrial and user communities of the development of systems for symbolic computation Stepwise Refinement of

Distributed Systems Jaco W. de Bakker,Willem-Paul de Roever,Grzegorz Rozenberg,1990-04-25 The stepwise refinement method postulates a system construction route that starts with a high level specification goes through a number of provably correct development steps and ends with an executable program The contributions to this volume survey the state of the art in this extremely active research area The world s leading specialists in concurrent program specification verification and the theory of their refinement present latest research results and surveys of the fields State based algebraic temporal logic oriented and category theory oriented approaches are presented Special attention is paid to the relationship between compositionality and refinement for distributed programs Surveys are given of results on refinement in partial order based approaches to concurrency A unified treatment is given of the assumption commitment paradigm in compositional concurrent program specification and verification and the extension of these to liveness properties Latest results are presented on specifying and proving concurrent data bases correct and deriving network protocols from their specifications
