The Complete Works of Friedrich Nietzsche: Human, all-too-human, tr. by Helen Zimmern and Paul V. Cohn. 1909-11
Friedrich Wilhelm Nietzsche, Oscar Levy, 1911      Yavneh Raz Kletter, Irit Ziffer, Wolfgang Zwickel, 2010

In the words of late Professor Moshe Kochavi the Philistine repository pit at Yavneh is the kind of discovery made only once every fifty years. It is the richest repository pit ever found from Bronze and Iron Ages Israel Palestine containing thousands of cultic finds originating from a temple including an unprecedented number more than a hundred of cult stands so called architectural models carrying rich figurative art dozens of fire pans chalices and other objects. The present volume includes the full publication of the excavation the stratigraphy the cult stands and the figures detached from cult stands several clay and stone altars and some pottery vessels related to burning of plant material most likely incense. This exceptional book raises a host of highly important and intriguing questions. Is this a favissa or even a genizah? Why are many cult stands badly broken while some are intact? Were cult stands broken on purpose? What is the explanation for the unique stratigraphy and for the layer of gray ash in the pit? Was fire kindled inside as part of a ritual? How do we know that these finds are Philistine? Are they part of the furniture of the temple or objects dedicated by worshippers as votives? Do the figures on the cult stands represent mortal beings or divinities? If divinities can we relate them with Biblical or extra biblical data on the gods of the Philistines? What was the function of cult stands? Were they models of buildings supports for images offering tables altars or perhaps incense burners? Why are female figures dominant while male figures are virtually absent? In discussing such topics Yavneh I treats issues that are central to many fields of study religion and cult in Iron Age Israel Palestine the history and archaeology of the Philistines and their western relations Near Eastern iconography the meaning of cult stands architectural models and the understanding of votive objects and of repository pits in general. Literally salvaged from the teeth of a bulldozer these rare finds are now published. Generations of scholars will discuss and reinterpret them there is no final word for such finds and hence this final excavation volume is not an end but a beginning.

In Pursuit of Satan Robert D. Hicks, 2010-12-31

Mutilated animals Defaced tombstones Sexual abuse in daycare centers Is America threatened by a satanic conspiracy? In this book Robert D Hicks exposes law enforcement's obsessive preoccupation with satanism as a model for criminal behavior. While satanic belief has played a part in crimes ranging from petty vandalism to serial murders Hicks avows that there is no substantial evidence for the existence of a nationwide satanic crime continuum. Hicks points out that the satanic criminal model is expedient largely due to its simplicity and economy reducing to simple formulas such complex problems as drug abuse teen suicide and sexual molestation. His research utilizes a unique blend of law enforcement methodology anthropology folklore history sociology psychology and psychiatry. He attributes the cult conspiracy theory to beliefs fueled by Christian fundamentalist sects and to the ungovernable mechanisms of rumor panics subversive mythology and urban legend. In Pursuit of Satan documents examples of rumor panics in which the police have fomented fear by attributing crimes to satanists indulging in sheer speculation and promulgating misinformation through the sensationalist news media Hicks examines the construction of the satanic ideology among law enforcement officials focusing on the exploitation of satanism as a new scapegoat for public fears and addressing the phenomenon of credulity among police forces and allied professionals in social work psychiatry and psychology
