Dangerous Encounters Daniel Touro Linger, 1992 This book is about violence in the Brazilian city of Sao Luis It describes how people think about and negotiate dangerous encounters vital and disturbing experiences that when they go wrong yield moral failure humiliation and death Brazilians like people elsewhere worry about the perils of coming face to face with the wrong person at the wrong time under the wrong circumstances The book discusses two conceptually linked forms of perilous face to face encounters Carnival a bacchanalian festival and briga a potentially lethal street confrontation When playing becomes fighting Carnival s samba fueled by the controlled venting of dangerous passions gives way to the explosive pas de deux of the street fight Sao luisenses tell vivid sometimes terrifying stories of verbal and physical confrontations Their narratives based on cultural models of Carnivals and brigas highlight the vulnerability of the self to humiliation by others and the vulnerability of moral controls to one s own hostile emotions The book argues that this double sense of social and psychological vulnerability is a product of Brazilian interpersonal relations which are profoundly marked by the arbitrary exercise of power and the stifling of resentment in subordinates Culture here consists not of shared symbols but of shared quandaries The author suggests that Brazilian street fighting is an alarm bell an inarticulate representation of pressing but poorly understood social and psychological dilemmas Violence in Sao Luis may therefore be a desperate attempt to understand and come to grips with the very resentment rooted in the city s harsh social transactions that engenders it
